Mark

I'd already agreed an updated description (subject to a suggested tweak) in my email of 23rd December, within half-an-hour of receiving your own email, albeit with a caveat that this was on the basis of no further requirement for re-consultation and with it not affecting efforts to have the application taken to the Plans Committee of 27th January 2022.

Your comments on re-consultation are noted, though I'm still not sure I understand the need for the amendment to the description in this instance. Notwithstanding this, I would ask that you confirm by return that the re-consultation referred to will not prevent the application being referred to the Plans Committee on the aforementioned date. I'm quite conscious that a week-and-a-half has passed since I responded to your email, of which only three days were Bank Holidays.

Kind Regards
