Jeremy

In light of comments you forwarded to me from Rupert Simms and also noting the Resident Group's own ecological representations, my client has appointed RammSanderson for an objective second view on all ecological matters. These assessments are currently underway and we hope to have drafts prepared late next week/early the week after.

You will have seen various emails I copied you into, which I sent direct to various consultees in your absence whilst on leave.

Cara Wild forwarded me a copy of her comments on our sketch plan that showed the proposed distribution of open space typologies across the site (as were emailed to you on 18th March), on 1st April and we are currently reviewing these.

I have asked Nola O'Donnell for her landscape comments a few times now - on 31st March and 1st and 14th April. She has advised she will be providing comments but has not responded to my queries as to her anticipated timescales for doing so. Similarly, I have asked Mark Fennell whether he intends to provide any heritage-related comments - on 31st March - but have had no response. Can you please chase these consultees up? Whilst appreciating work pressures, I think it's reasonable to have expected all initial consultation responses to have been received by what is now week 17 since the application's validation and with the consultation period having ended in mid-February in any case. It's quite disappointing and unhelpful when officers don't even respond to polite requests to advise of their anticipated timescales for providing their comments.

Kind Regards
