

Charnwood Borough Council Communications Strategy 2017-2021

Prepared, April, 2017

Foreword

It is imperative that we have strategically planned communications at the Council to ensure we are engaging fully with our customers, partners, businesses, Members and staff.

Our communications need to be fit for 2017 and beyond. We need to embrace digital channels to help get our key messages and information to the right people, at the right time and in the right way.

And it's not just about broadcasting messages. We need to use these same channels to garner customer feedback, opinions, views and ideas. We need to join in the conversations taking place about how we make Charnwood a better, safer and more prosperous place.

Utilising these digital channels will also enable us to build solid networks within our communities and that applies to more than just the communications team, but other staff and members as well.

At the same time we must also recognise that some people will still want more traditional forms of contact with the Council. Not everyone is on the internet and we must be conscious of the harder-to-reach audiences.

Ensuring our communications are audience focused will make them more effective. Our Corporate Plan 2017-2021 sets out a number of priorities and every single one of them will have a critical element of communications, be it internally or externally. Therefore it is essential that this strategy supports the Corporate Plan and helps us achieve our goals.

What we are striving for is an outstanding communications function that is hard-wired to achieving our business goals.

Cllr Jonathan Morgan, Lead Member for Communications

Executive Summary

1. The strategy sets out how we will develop the Council's external and internal communications to meet the needs and demands of our customers, staff, members and partners over the next four years.
2. The primary areas of focus will be:
 - Developing more digital channels, in particular social media and e-newsletters
 - Empowering staff and members to use social media and other digital channels to engage with customers and develop networks
 - Developing campaigns to support the aim of the Corporate Plan and ensure they are fully evaluated.

1. Introduction and purpose

- 1.1 Since the 2013-16 Communication Strategy was originally agreed, the communications landscape has continued to change at pace.
- 1.2 The print audiences of local media have continued to decline in recent years with some circulations dropping by over a third between 2012 and 2015. The local media's website and social media audiences have grown in that time.
- 1.3 The Council's own social media channels have continued to grow in popularity (Twitter followers up 35% in 2014/15) and there is great potential to develop more digital channels, in particular e-newsletters, to target specific audiences.
- 1.4 Digital communications, in particular social media, are being used more by staff outside the communications team as they interact directly with their customers and Members are also developing their own networks on social media.
- 1.5 While digital communications will increase, the strategy retains some traditional communications, such as the print publications, to reach people who are not on the internet.
- 1.6 The purpose of the strategy is to provide a clear direction for the development of communications across the organisation.

2. Key objectives and outcomes

- 2.1 The objectives are to:
 - Grow the Council's own audiences using digital channels
 - Deliver a first-class media management service
 - Continue to use and develop key print publications to help reach a wider audience, particularly those without internet access

- Execute four key campaigns each year which support the Corporate Plan and are fully evaluated to measure success
- Ensure the web content is well-managed, easy-to-read and highly-rated by an independent assessment
- Continue to develop internal communications channels to meet the needs of the organisation and support staff engagement

2.2 At the end of this strategy the Council's communications will:

- be more digital and audience-focussed
- include more engaging content such as video (recorded and live) and images which can be shared
- empower staff to utilise social media and digital channels to engage with their with customers directly and peers as well as amplify key messages
- still place a great focus on media management
- maximise campaigns to get across key messages
- have solid, built-in evaluation techniques to measure communications effectiveness across the council
- include internal communications which are more engaging with staff and suited to a modern, mobile workforce

3. Background

3.1 Before we look at the Council's communications channels we need to consider some national and local trends.

3.2 According to Ofcom's Communications Market Report (2016):

- 2015 was the first year in which the smartphone was considered to be the most important device for accessing the internet among all adults, overtaking the laptop
- 71 per cent of adults have a smartphone
- social media is increasingly being used by older people (51% of 55-64 year olds)
- 64 per cent of adults use social media
- 48% of UK adults say they have access to 4G - the superfast mobile internet connection – and it is available to 97.8% of UK premises
- the research suggests a typical adult spends an average of 25 hours online per week, with nearly half (42%) saying they go online or check apps more than 10 times a day
- there's been a decrease in the number of people reading newspapers (including print and digital versions), which fell by 5% to 50% of adults.

3.3 According to Telecom giant Cisco, by 2019 video traffic will be 80 per cent of all internet traffic.

- 3.4 It is clear we are living in a smartphone society and that includes Charnwood. Digital communications will only get faster, easier and more popular.
- 3.5 However, we must not lose sight that many of our customers include hard to reach groups who may not have easy access to technology or who prefer more traditional forms of communication. Around 12 per cent of people in Leicestershire and Rutland have never been online or used the internet directly according to the Internet Access Quarterly Update, Office for National Statistics. We will still aim to reach them via print publications, but must consider more targeted tactics as well.
- 3.6 The Council's Residents' Survey also offers an insight into how customers want to be communicated with and their current satisfaction levels with the Council's communications. The survey revealed 72 per cent of people were satisfied with the way the Council kept them informed. According to respondents, the most preferred methods of hearing about Council services were:
- Letters/leaflets (45%)
 - Website (37%)
 - Email (35%)
 - Council magazine (33%)
 - Local media (28%)
 - Twitter / Facebook (14%)
- 3.7 While Letters/Leaflets was the most popular choice there has been strong growth in the use of the website and social media and these are the channels widely expected to continue growing in use. National trends also reflect the continuing shift to digital channels.

4 Social Media

4.2 The Council has two main corporate social media profiles:

- Twitter: @CharnwoodBC – 5,400 followers (March 2017)
- Facebook: facebook.com/CharnwoodBC- 600 likes (March 2017)

- 4.1 The number of followers of the Council's Corporate Twitter account has doubled in the past two years and there is no indication that it will stop growing.
- 4.2 The Council's Facebook page had to be re-created last year due to an issue regarding access to the original account, therefore the number of likes are fairly low. However, content which interests people can still reach a significant number of people. For example, videos and images generally reach larger audiences than text-only posts. The Don't Muck Around Rap video was a key success with over 7,000 views on Facebook within three days and the post reached 19,000 people, the biggest audience reached in one go on a Council social media account.

- 4.3 There is also the opportunity to boost posts using fairly low-cost advertising which increases the reach. For example, a £20 boost of a post promoting Easter activities reached over 9,000 people.
- 4.4 The Council also has profiles on YouTube and Flickr and some teams such as the Community Safety and the Markets teams also have social media profiles. Council venues including Charnwood Museum and Loughborough Town Hall also have social media profiles which can share some of our content when relevant and increase the number of impressions. In total, the Council has 13 active, directly associated Twitter and Facebook accounts.
- 4.5 Social media has changed the way residents interact with organisations affecting their lives, but according to the Local Government Association less than a fifth of councillors are using it. The LGA says that “this represents a missed opportunity”.
- 4.6 Out of 52 members at Charnwood, 14 have active social media profiles (Twitter or Facebook or both) and six with inactive accounts. (July 2016).
- 4.7 The BDO Local Government Social Media Survey 2015 found 74 per cent of respondents said that the approach taken by senior council leadership (officers and members) towards social media had a significant impact upon how organisations use it.

What we will do:

- Continue to grow social media audiences, primarily on Twitter and Facebook, with the aim of reaching 12,000 Twitter followers and 2,000 likes on Facebook by 2020. (Action Plan 1.1)
- Develop more engaging social media content such as video to explain Council priorities, get across key information to customers and stakeholders and grow audiences (Action Plan 1.2).
- Secure senior management buy-in of the use of social media to develop networks with customers / members / peers / stakeholders (Action Plan 1.3)
- Support the creation of team social media accounts to interact with customers and peers building in governance and best practice (Action Plan 1.4)
- Introduce social media guidance for staff to increase confidence in its use (Action Plan 1.5)
- Create a basic social media skills workshop for staff and members (Action Plan 1.6 & 1.7)
- Encourage more members to use social media and aim by 2018 to have 47 members with active social media profiles (Action Plan 1.8)
- Trial live-streaming of events on social media, including council meetings (Action Plan 1.9)

Further measurements are contained in the Action Plan (Appendix 1)

5 E-newsletters

5.1 The Council currently has three e-newsletters serving customers at Charnwood Museum, private sector landlords and the Council’s Virtual Citizens’ Panel. They have between 100 and 150 subscribers to each and are administered using a free account of Mailchimp.

What we will do

- Create a monthly e-newsletter version of Charnwood News to distribute council key messages and information (Action Plan 1.10)
- Support services in the development of their own e-newsletters to interact with customers (Action Plan 1.11)

Measurements are contained in the Action Plan. (Appendix 1)

6 The Media

6.1 Below is a list of the main media organisations operating in Charnwood and who regularly cover Council activities and business.

MEDIA	VERIFIED CIRCULATION / AUDIENCE
Loughborough Echo	(2016 circulation – 9,018* / unique website users a month - 91,553)
Leicester Mercury	(2016 circulation 25,859* / unique website users a month - 1.3 million*)
BBC Radio Leicester	(118,000 listeners on average)
BBC East Midlands Today	Non available
ITV Central	Non available
Oak FM	Ceased trading July 2016
Fosse 107 (created late 2016)	Non available
There are also a number of other smaller printed titles such as the Thurmaston Times, Syston Town News, Birstall, Mountsorrel and Rothley Post editions.	Thurmaston Times delivered to 4,500 homes and the Syston Town News goes to 7,100 homes. Both have websites. Birstall, Mountsorrel and Rothley Posts has a combined circ of 10,000. Figures provided by the titles themselves.

* Figures from ABC newspaper circulation

 Figures from The Joint Industry Committee for Regional Media Research

 RAJAR

6.2 In the year 2015/16, the majority of media coverage of Council business and activities was carried by the Loughborough Echo (70%), followed by the Leicester Mercury (17%) and then Radio Leicester (5%). In that year the tone of coverage was judged to be: 34 per cent positive; 61 per cent neutral; five per cent negative.

- 6.3 It is worth bearing in mind the challenges facing regional newspapers. Most regional newspapers have suffered print circulation declines year on year and although their digital audiences are growing, they do not yet generate more income than print advertising. According to Ofcom's Communications Market Report (2016), the average UK adult spends more time each day on social media than reading a newspaper in print or online (25mins vs 15mins).
- 6.4 The local media still retain a sizeable and loyal audience. Their digital audiences, particularly on social media, should also not be ignored. The Loughborough Echo has over 7,000 Likes on Facebook and the Leicester Mercury 46,000, meaning they reach a significant number of people.
- 6.5 The media also influence the influencers such as partner organisations, local political groups and Members.

What we will do

- Continue to provide a pro-active approach to Council news and supply the local media with ready to use copy, pictures and video. More focussed selling-in of stories is to be encouraged and the development of relationships with key journalists (print, radio, TV). (Action Plan 2.1)
- Continue to monitor the media for reputation issues and take action if necessary as well as scan the horizon for potential issues (Action Plan 2.2)
- Improve media monitoring to include local media's websites and social media coverage as their audiences are becoming more and more significant. This will give us a better understanding of how far our messages are reaching in the press and of positive/negative/neutral coverage. Smaller publications will also be monitored to give a better overall picture, particularly in the rural areas. (Action Plan 2.3)
- Secure four pieces of TV coverage a year from proactive media work and selling-in of stories. (Action Plan 2.4)

Further measurements are contained in the Action Plan. (Appendix 1)

7 Council Print Publications and Materials

7.1 The key publications are:

- Charnwood News Residents' Newsletter – delivered to most homes in the borough at zero cost to the taxpayer, three times a year. The publication is funded through advertising secured by the printing company. This arrangement has been in place since 2013
- Your Homes Matters – delivered to nearly 6,000 tenants four times a year

- 7.2 The communications team is involved in producing or procuring a number of other printed materials to support services including an external newsletter, posters and leaflets. Particularly significant projects include supporting the creation of the Loughborough in Bloom brochure.
- 7.3 The print publications, such as Charnwood News and Your Homes Matter, also offer a way to reach people who do not have internet access.

What we will do

- Continue to produce three copies of Charnwood News (Action Plan 3.1)
- Continue to produce four issues of Your Homes Matter per year (Action Plan 3.2)
- Refresh the design and content of both publications following customer feedback (Action Plan 3.3 and 3.4)
- Assess the demand, potential and any resources needed for an e-newsletter version of Your Homes Matter to provide an alternative format for tenants (Action Plan 3.5)

Further measurements are contained in the Action Plan. (Appendix 1)

8 Campaigns

- 8.1 The Council has run a number of campaigns in recent years, some annual, some on a one-off basis. A campaign is defined as a series of planned activities designed to achieve a goal. Examples of Council campaigns include the annual Don't Muck Around campaign to tackle enviro-crime and the biennial residents' survey, but there are a host of smaller campaigns, including internal, which are conducted through the year.
- 8.2 The Government Communications Service says campaigns must contain:
- Objectives
 - Audience/Insight
 - Strategy/Ideas
 - Implementation
 - Scoring/Evaluation

What we will do

- Execute four communications-led campaigns a year which are clearly planned, evaluated with results fed back to the relevant Head of Service. The campaigns in the action plan are for 2016/17 as they will change every year. (Action Plan 4.1 – 4.4)

Measurements are contained in the Action Plan. (Appendix 1)

9 Charnwood Borough Council website

- 9.1 The Council website is hosted by Cuttlefish. Charnwood is part of a web unity group, including Oadby and Wigston and North West Leicestershire councils. Charnwood, as the lead authority in the unity group, holds the contract with Cuttlefish.
- 9.2 Content on the Council website is managed by the communications team and has around 1,150 pages with content. This was reduced from around 1,800 during a content review in 2015/16
- 9.3 Between July 1, 2015 and July 1, 2016 there were 2,598,651 page views (up 2.3% year-on-year) and the number website users was 437,396 (up 9.8% year-on-year).
- 9.4 Around 50 per cent of traffic to the Council website is from mobile devices and the most popular pages consistently relate to planning and refuse collection.
- 9.5 Assessments by the Society of Information Technology Management (Socitm) Better Connected scheme rated the Council as three stars in 2015 and two stars in 2016. The two star rating is similar to peers including Oadby and Wigston and North West Leicestershire.

What we will do

- Develop the Council's website content in order to help achieve a Socitm four star rating and maintain it. Four stars is likely to depend on implementation of new e-forms which are due in early 2017. (Action Plan 5.1)
- Work with ICS and web unity partners to develop the look and usability of the website, particularly as more traffic is mobile based. (Action Plan 5.2)

Measurements are contained in the Action Plan. (Appendix1)

10. Internal Communications

- 10.6 Internal Communications helps leaders inform and engage employees in a way which motivates them to maximise their performance and deliver the business strategy in the most effective way.
- 10.7 The Council is committed to utilising all internal communications channels to ensure employees are engaged, have a voice, have a clear understanding of the organisation's objectives and how their roles fit in with those objectives.

10.8 The Council has a number of key internal communications channels which are used to interact with around 500 staff and 52 members. The key channels used by the Communications Team are:

- One Charnwood fortnightly staff e-newsletter (viewed on average 400-500 times)
- All-staff emails
- Intranet
- Ad-hoc staff briefings

What we will do

- Introduce annual all-staff briefings led by SMT and made interactive to boost engagement (Action Plan 6.1)
- Support the delivery and content management of the staff intranet where staff can access information, share content, news and views. (Action Plan 6.2)
- Introduce quarterly features in One Charnwood summarising the quarterly performance reports to better inform staff of organisational performance against targets. (Action Plan 6.3)
- Refresh the design of One Charnwood (Action Plan 6.4)
- Investigate and cost out introducing a “proper” e-newsletter version of One Charnwood which renders to suit mobile devices and desktops to meet the demands of an ever-increasing mobile workforce. (Action Plan 6.5)
- Develop a separate Internal Communications Strategy. (Action Plan 6.6)

Measurements are contained in the Action Plan. (Appendix 1)

11. Resources

11.1 The Communications Team handles external and internal communications which includes managing the content on the Council’s corporate website.

Communications Team Responsibilities
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Compiling proactive media releases • Handling media inquiries • Monitoring media coverage • Horizon scanning for potential reputational issues • Providing strategic media and communications advice to the senior management team and Cabinet • Producing a weekly Media Briefing and presenting it to the Leader, Lead Member and Chief Executive • Managing the Council’s corporate social media accounts • Supporting and advising staff in the use 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Producing four issues of Your Homes Matter a year • Planning proactive communications activity for a number of campaigns • Producing digital content, including video, to support campaigns • Maintaining and managing content on the Council website • Producing 24 issues of One Charnwood for staff • Issuing all-staff emails and key messages on the intranet • Providing an ad-hoc design service for various marketing materials and one

of social media <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Producing three issues of Charnwood News a year 	newsletter <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Producing speeches and briefings • Guardians of the Council's branding • Co-ordinating translations and interpretations
--	---

- 11.2 Between April 1, 2015 and March 31, 2016 the Council's Communications team handled nearly 200 media inquiries, and issued more than 220 press releases and media statements. The Communications team comprises 3.5 FTE posts.
- 11.3 In terms of budgets, the communications team has access to a small budget within the Improvement and Organisational Development team and services tend to fund their own marketing activities, mostly through the Communications Team but sometimes independently.
- 11.4 In 2014/15 the Council spent around £47,000 on publicity, including newsletters, across all services (including Loughborough Town Hall and Charnwood Museum). This compares with £36,449 in 13/14 and £50,307 in 12/13.
- 11.5 As more staff are likely to be involved in social media / e-newsletters/content creation across the organisation, there will need to be a corporate approach to any software/hardware purchases in order to get best value for money.

12 Principles

- 12.1 The Communications Strategy will follow the best practice principles as set out by the Government Communication Service.
- Our communications will be audience-focused and leverage customer insight
 - digital, and in particular, social media will be at the heart of our content
 - our communications will not only transmit key messages, but also generate a two-way conversation with our audiences
 - we will strive to increase our productivity and work to be ever more cost-effective
 - communicators should act as leaders – inspiring, confident and empowering
- 12.2 As ever, our communications will always be honest, open and in plain English.

13 Equalities

- 13.1 The Council is committed to ensuring that all people from different groups are not discriminated against or disadvantaged by our actions in any way.

- 13.2 All internal and external communications should use language that treats people with the respect they deserve, be non-discriminatory and accessible to a wide audience. Plain English should be used at all times.
- 13.3 It means the Council must also consider the ways in which people want to access information and engage with the Council. Although the use of digital channels are increasing, and will continue to do so, there remains a significant number of people in Charnwood who still do not have access to the internet and therefore printed materials will still be required.
- 13.4 Around 12 per cent of people in Leicestershire and Rutland have never been online or used the internet directly according to the Internet Access Quarterly Update, Office for National Statistics.
- 13.5 The Council's corporate website should be accessible to people with disabilities. This work will be picked up through the drive to achieve a four-star rating with Socitm.
- 13.6 The Council will continue to offer translations and interpreters under its Interpreting and Translation Policy.

Prepared by Mike Roberts, Communications Officer, December 2016

Communications Strategy 2016-20 Action Plan
