'Everyone has the right to enjoy life in their own way as long as they don't upset the people living near them'

Many problems can be sorted out by talking calmly with the other person, but action can be taken to assist you if this approach fails or if someone's behaviour is very anti-social. We can only help if we know in detail what is going on. You can make this possible by keeping a diary of everything that happens. We can then work out together the best way to sort out the problem. For more tips on how to approach your neighbour please visit our website.

Please note the following:

1. Only write down the dates and times when the behaviour/nuisance is affecting you.
2. Any information you provide on these forms may be used as evidence in legal action. You may be called to court as a witness & asked questions about information on these sheets.
3. You must only write down things that are true and correct.
4. Your case officer may make unannounced visits based on the times and days that you say the nuisance usually occurs.
5. You must sign and date the form below and return it to your case officer at the Council offices.
6. If you need a copy of this diary sheet, please make a copy yourself, as we may not retain the sheet that you submit to us.
